

Electronics Buyer

Norbar Torque Tools Ltd., the world leading torque tool manufacturer has a vacancy for an experienced Buyer to support the Electronics process.

The role involves a mixture of proactive research into new sources of supply to maintain Norbar as a UK manufacturer and reactive work to maintain daily delivery to our customers across the globe.

Ideally you will have a level of knowledge in the electronics field that allows you to select appropriate potential suppliers. As a member of the Institute of Purchasing and Supply you will know how to evaluate these suppliers and determine the optimum source for both new and existing components and services.

Your IT skills will be of a level that allows accurate and timely analysis of data and effective communication to suppliers and colleagues alike.

You will work closely with your engineering and planning colleagues to agree contractual requirements including key performance indicators and set appropriate pricing that results in a win-win relationship.

The role will involve some UK travel therefore you should have a full UK driving licence.

In return we can offer a starting salary circa £30,000.

Norbar also offers a non-guaranteed profit related bonus, contributory pension scheme, life assurance, an award winning restaurant plus other lifestyle benefits.

Closing date for applications: Friday 30 June 2017
